Otero was pale but composed, and signed a copy of his sentence with a firm hand. The Judge then delivered him into the custody of the Brothers of the Ancient Order of Bany Caridad, founded by John II, who led the prisoner to the Chapel, dimly lighted. He will be executed at 8 o'clock, yesterday morning, Otero expressed repentance, but refuses all offers of advice or consolation from priests.

SUCCESS WITH SMALL FRUITS.

A Model Agricultural Department—A Western Essay on the Blackberry.

From the Burlington Hawk-Eye.

Formerly the blackberry was regarded as merely a bramble in this country. It is still quite generally so regarded. When a man gets to thinking it is not a bramble, all he has to do is to waltz around in a healthy patch with nothing on him but a cotton shirt and a pair of tow trousers, and he will come out restored to the faith of his fathers. The greatest enemy the blackberry has is boys. Five boys from town can eat more green blackberries in a day than would ripen in a week. For many years the great desideratum has been a hardy berry that could resist the premature onslaught of boys from town. It is a great desideratum still. The Schneider, a variety that was invented by an Iowa horticulturist, is the nearest approach to it. It is bred from a perfectly green persimmon, crossed with a dogwood tree, and still further propogated with a hybrid of wormwood bush and wild crab-apple. It is not a perfect defense, but there are very few boys who care to eat more than a quart of them. Nobody else, however, can go past the field where the Schneider is growing without being attacked by Asiatic cholera, and this tends to weaken the partial success this hardy berry has achieved. Then there is a bug—I do not know the name of it—that crawls over the berries now and then. When you eat a berry that has been glorified by a visit from this bug you lie down in the briers and pray to heaven to take you home in just about three seconds. And if you live you can wake up in the night, along in the middle of next winter, and shudder as you taste that berry.

When your blackberries grow too thickly, you will want to thin them out. To this end you must kill some of them. This can be done by digging a well where the plant stands; then turn the farm upside down and let it dry out thoroughly for a couple of years; then turn it over, upside down, and start a brickyard on the back of it. There may be some shorter and cheaper method of killing blackberry bushes than this, but I never heard of it, and it isn't likely that there is any.

If you want to devote about forty acres of ground to the cultivation of blackberries, plant about three healthy vines in some corner of the field about the middle of April. Then about the 1st of May the man who owns the farm on the other side of the road will bring civil action against you, and try to collect damages for destruction of his two fields of wheat by a raid of blackberry vines.

It is not known just at what season of the year blackberries ripen. The blackberry has never been known to ripen. If the hucksters and boys should all die in June, it is probable that the berries would ripen some time in July or August. But they have never had a chance to see what they could do at ripening.

The blackberry is so named because it is blue in order to distinguish it from the blueberry, which is black.

N. Y. Sun.

There have lately appeared, on both sides of the Atlantic, suggestions of the desirability and feasibility of completing the system of ocean telegraphy, which has made such wonderful progress since Cyrus W. Field established the practicability of this method of international communication. There is not only no reason why this extension should not be made; the wender is that it has been so long delayed. It was—most emphatically—"the first step that cost," in this sort of business. All subsequent progress has been safe and easy.

A few years since, we think in 1874, a bill was reported in Congress, with the approval of President Grant, which incorporated an interoceanic cable company; authorized it to lay a cable to Japan, and guaranted 4 per cent. income, all in excess of that amount going to the government. It was a reasonable bill and met with much favor, but failed for reasons not affecing its merits. As we are now hoping to obtain special advantages of trade with China, as well as Japan, and as our necessity of enlarging the only great market for our increasing silver products comes simultaneously with the Chinese hostility toward Russia and England, there would seem to be great propiety and timeliness in reviving a Bill for giving us direct cable communication with the Asiatic countries and the islands of the Pacific. It would be a further and great advantage to such a project, that the rate of interest which satisfies investors now is not much over half what was demanded in 1874.

A perfect system of cable communication with the Est would require three lines. First: From San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands. Second: From the Hawaiian Islands to Japan. Third: From the Hawaiian Islands to Australia, touching at the Fiji Islands and New Caledonia. It is needless to say that the difficulties of laying these cables would be very slight, as compared with those which have had to be overcome in laying Atlantic cables, while the former would be far less exposed to disturbing influences, when laid, than the latter.

As this is an era of great enterprises, of overflowing capital and of extension of all manner of means of inter-communication, we should not be surprised to see the ocean cable system completed with great speed and the whole world embraced within the circuit of our lightning messengers, before 1881 goes out.

OUR COUNTY LETTERS.

Correspondence of the News.

GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 13.—Fifty-one of the C. F. & Y. V. Railroad convicts are now hard at work, grading said road at the old Guilford Battle ground, (Martinsville,) five miles north of town and will soon have the whole graded back to town, and we now confidently hope to have the iron horse running out there by the 15th of March next, the great Centennial occasion.

The faithful little band of Good Templars gave the first strawberry and ice cream festival of the season last week, and netted $32.

We regret to learn by a telegram that Mrs Parks, (Miss Jennie Wilson,) who has been in New York some ten weeks on her bridal trip, was right badly hurt by a cab, in that city last week.

The revenue collection of this district was over $67,400 for March, and so the money goes.

The Federal Court is in session still. One lengthy and important case of using tobacco stamps twice occupied two days. John Anthony and Dr. J. S. Peatrass, of Stokes, were indicted for said allegation, but after a very careful sifting on both sides, the stamps, and stamped boxes with letters, etc., etc., from Selma, Ala., being produced. The defendants were most ably represented by W. B. Glenn and Colonel Ruffin, and the Government by W. J. Bail.

I have had occasion before to refer to Colonel Ruffin, in defense of his clients, and this time again he fully maintained his reputation, and I should speak also of the able effort of Messrs. Glenn and Bail. The letters refered to however were too plain forgeries for the jury and hence the acquital of the defendants. Tis very true there is too much of this re using tobacco stamps and boxes as is often seen in seizures and thereby a forfieture of the whole, and penitentiary beside if convicted.

What mean our last Legislature in reducing the tax on whiskey, or spirits? They were called together to sell the Rail Road if need be, and now to reduce the tax so-that with the same money, the poor inebriate shall have five quarts to where he had but four, before is too bad, in other words making possibly twenty five per cent more criminals, and misery than before, Oh shame where is thy blush! Surely this must have been done in great haste, and this too in the face of all the little bands of strugling temperance people over the State and and their friends and the friends of the local option law, who are striving to save the drunkard.

One paper says: "And some professing Christians voted for it."

It did seem strange that intelligent people, the land over, seeing the great evil liquor produces, will lend aid and continuence to to it as they do.

Joseph H. Cardwell, supervisor of Census, and Mr. Best are now established here.

Miss. Phoebe Looker of Va., a blind lady musician, gave a concert here last week assisted by musical talent, to not a full house. She plays and sings well, to be deprived of sight.

The past week has been of a very changeable nature, snowed nearly all one day, and rained, turned cold, frosted, froze and I am sorry to hear of the destruction of the peach crops and cherries, to a great extent.

The loss will be many thousands of dollars to Guilford, and doubtless so to other counties also. The house of Odell & Co., sold yesterday about thirty thousand pounds of rags.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, April 10.—The weather which has been cool for some days past is now exceedingly bright. On Tuesday last a tremendous hailstorm fell in the region of the village, at some points covering the ground three inches in depth. By the hail and frost great damage has been done to the fruit crop.

There was great excitement in town last night at two o'clock over the cry of fire. The conflagration was in the academy which belongs to the Episcopal Church, and as the building was located some distance from any other, damage was done to no other property. The cause is supposed to be carelessness.

Trade seems to be lively, and some new firms are going up, while none of the old are failing. Many people in the village to-day from the county, and also quite a number of strangers can be seen, more probably than at any former period for the same reason.

The Eagle hotel which is very commodious is said to be already full with invalids and prospectors, while the season has hardly begun. Quite a lively time is expected here this summer, the best that we look for though, is Col. Best.

All eyes are now turned towards him (and they are all anxious inquiring eyes) to see what movements he is going to make. If Mr. Best wishes to obtain the good graces of the people of the western portion of the State, he has only to convince them, and that at an early day, that he intends completing the Ducktown branch, for as regards the other branch no one seems in any measure to doubt his good intentions.

W.

Corr. Springfield Republican.

To go into the House of Representatives is to the uninitiated very much like being let into a menagerie, for the atmosphere is very hot and close, the ventilation is very defective—an odor of cigar smoke adds its burden to a sensitive organization—and there is an immense amount of howling on the floor. This is my impression of it all, although I've listened very intently and tried to become informed in the ways of the government of my country. The speaker spends most of his time in pounding violently with his gavel, and nobody seems to care whether he pounds or not—he apparently does it for his own amusement. Then with a very few exceptions everybody that speaks acts exactly as if he intended to annihilate everybody else. I never can understand what they say, except by snatches, and what I do hear seems to be of very little importance. It does seem so ridiculous for a man to get up and work himself into a tremendous passion, swinging his arms, pound on his desk, walk up and down the aisle, grow red in the face, and swell up the veins of his forehead, and end with a grand peroration about "blowing the bugle till it sounds again"—all of which I heard and saw the other day—while all the other members are reading newspapers or smoking outside the rail, writing at their desks, chatting with each other and continually passing in and out, while nobody seems to pay any attention to all this exhibition of feeling. They seem to take especial delight in contradicting each other flatly, insisting that somebody is out of time or order, and on the whole I've come to the conclusion that thing could't be much worse any way—and who knows if they mightn't be better?"—even if woman had a place in that august (?) body.

A PRISON FOR NIHILISTS.

A Dungeon Which has Held Many Noteworthy Prisoners.

A short account of the celebrated casemates of the Fortress St. Peter and St. Paul, in which the nihilists are confined immediately after their arrest, will doubless be perused with interest. The writer, a St. Petersburg correspondent, obtained access to the casemates by a special order from one of the grand dukes, whose name he naturally suppresses. The sight of the order when presented was by no means acceptable to the commandant of the fortress, but, as it was peremptory, he had no alternative but to comply. The casemates, it appears, and hollowed out under the Neva, and directly under the ramparts. Their only window, a little square hole protected by a thick barred grating, rises but a few inches above the level of the river. A staircase of about ten steps leads down to them, and, as the side-de-camp who acted as guide remarked, in a jocular tone: "Many go down but few come up again. It would seem that the climate is not favorable to revolutionist." At stated distances there are iron doors opening into halls filled with sentinels, who, with loaded rifle and fixed bayonet, keep watch and ward over the unhappy tenants of the cells which open upon them. The doors of the cells, also of iron, are very low. As for the tiny prisons, they are very narrow quarters, square, with stone walls and floors, and fearfully damp, the water constantly dropping about in all directions. A chair, a table, and a palled of white wood, form the only furniture. One of the pallets was found to be covered with a bed of straw horribly foul, but even this, poor luxury as it was, must be considered an exception. The prisoners, the writer learned, were fed on schti, a soup made of salted cabbage and black bread. On grand occasions, however, they were sometimes treated to a bit of meat and a tcharka, or glassful of brandy. The visitor was allowed entrance to a few of the cells. Their tenants were pale; they rose as he entered, according to order, but regarded him with a fixed look of despair. On some of the walls characters had been traced with a pointed instrument. One of the phrases ran thus: 'My poor mother, you doubtless know not that your innocent son is buried alive in this vault." The guide interfered and prevented the writer from reading more. He has shown the famous cell in which was incarcerated the Princess Tarakanova, daughter of the Empress Elizabeth, who fell a victim to her rival; the Empress Catherine II., grandmother of the present Czar. This unhappy woman perished in the cell under the most dramatic circumstances. The Neva, swollen by the melted snow, suddenly rose, and the rushing torrent, dashing with overwhelming strength against the tiny window, broke in and filled the cell with water. The princess was drowned. The cells of the great State criminals are lined with mattresses, and rings of iron are placed in the walls, to which many of them are bound when they are not straitwaistcoat d. The guide informed the writer among other things, that these unhappy men were asked every quarter of an hour if they were present. Whenever they failed to reply, they were barbarously punished. He also states that in the wall of the Emperor's room is an invisible door, communicating with a little passage, very narrow, and leading to a subterranean gallery, hollowed out under the Neva. The gallery leads to the fortress, and, in case of a revolution or of imminent peril, the Czar could disappear in a few seconds from the winter palace, and in a few minutes after find himself in perfect safety in the Fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, the guns of which, in a short time, could reduce St. Petersburg to ruins. The palace of the Czar Paul I., which is now the engineer's school, was similar provided, but when the assassins entered his room he had not time to flee, and was struck down at the very moment when he was about to disappear behind the secret door, which was already open.

The Great Eastern.

So much importance has been attached to the Great Eastern in times past, and the career of the great vessel has been so checkered, that the following report of a recent meeting of the Great Eastern Steamship Company, the proprietors of the famous ship, may be of interest:

"The report presented for the past year showed a balance to the debit of profit and loss account of £4,044 ($20,220.) The directors further reported that the smaller repairs of the ship had been continuously carried on, and, as the arrangements of the Milford Dock Company were sufficiently forward to admit of the necessary repairs to the ship's bottom being effected, the few new iron plates required were now being put in. The directors continued to receive inquiries in reference to the employment of the ship, and negotiations on that subject were now pending, and as freights were in better demand they trusted that some satisfactory arrangements would shortly be concluded. The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, said he had nothing to report of a satisfactory character. As the vessel required compound engines, no one would employ her in her present condition. The directors had tried to induce the shareholders to find the money, but they had failed in getting it. There would always be a difficulty in getting her employed, as large steamers were now worked at a much less cost than this ship could at present be worked. A discussion took place as to the value of the ship, and the chairman said it was worth, £2 0,000 ($1,200,000.)"

THE MODUS OPERANDI.

HARDENING THE MUSCLES FOR THE ARENA.

How a Man is Trained for Pugilistic Encounters among the Boughs of Gotham.

"What is your programme for training?"

"Why," said Taylor, answering for his pupil, "Ryan rises at 7 o'clock in the morning, but takes no baths. We don't believe a man is a fish. He swallows the yolk of a raw egg mixed with about a glassful of pure water. Then he takes a short walk before breakfast. For breakfast he has mutton chops or tenderloin steak, seasoned toast and a bowl of tea. Then he takes an hour's rest. I put on his flannels, and we take a twelve mile walk or run at a lively gait. On our return we strip him and give him a good rub down. Then he puts on clean flannels, and after a rest he takes dinner."

"What food do you give him for dinner?"

"Well, roast beef or porter-house steak, broiled, or a leg of boiled mutton, or chicken, boild potatoes, cabbage or greens, and custard or tapioca pudding. I also let him have Scotch ale or Bass's ale, toast and calf's-foot jelly. After dinner he has a rest, and then he he swings clubs, plays with light dumb bells and fights the bladder. I then start off with Ryan, about 3 o'clock for another long tramp, with a large stick in his hand. He hits at everything he sees, to make his wrists supple that he can hit with knuckles, and thus save his hands from breaking in the fight. On our return, Ryan, after being rubbed down, receives his supper, which is either the half of a broiled chicken, or boiled eggs, toast, or a bowl of hot gruel, mixed with port wine and currents. Ryan goes to bed at 9 or 10 o'clock, and I always wake him at 7 o'clock."

"Where will the fight take place?"

"It will take place in Canada," said Taylor; "but it is hard to tell where the crowd will come from Buffalo, will not be the starting point; the authorities and the lovers of prize fighting had trouble enough over the recent fight between Chambers and Clark. I know well enough that Ryan has got to face a first-class pugilist on May 18. Goss has proved the victor in all his hard fought battles, except when he met Jim Mace, and men may say what they have a mind to about him Everybody knows Goss has been a good man in his day, but I can't reckon it up how an old man like Goss can beat such a fine young and strong pugilist as Ryan. In my opinion," said Taylor, before Goss gets through with Ryan, he will find out he has had a fight that he never bargained for in all his life."

"I am going to do the best I can," said the pugilist, "and I think I will win it. Look at the ring record. I am a young man yet. Jack Slack, the butcher, came prominent before the public for defeating Jack Broughton, who was an old man, for £600, in 14 minutes, in 1750, upon which occasion the Duke of Cumberland lost £10,000 Jim Belcher, the champion of England, when an old man was beaten on December 6, 1806, by Harry Pearce, the Game Chicken, in 18 rounds and 35 minutes. The renowned Burke, champion of England, when an old man, came to this country in 1834. He was beaten by Bendigo, on his return to England, in 1839, in 16 rounds, lasting 24 minutes."

Woolsey on the Third Term.

Boston Herald.

President Woolsey, of Yale University, who is one of the best authorities in this country on theoretic questions of state, is quite decided in his opinion that to elect a President for a third term, in defiance of the usages established by past practices, would be detrimental to the best interests of our government. He points out what many seem to forget, that our institutions, even those that are provided for in the constitution, are controlled by public opinion, and, if a constitutional or extra constitutional habit has been formed it is not best to depart from it, without strong reasons can be given for so doing. President Woolsey is not alarmed at the spectre of imperialism; but he evidently thinks that if the custom of readily conforming to long-tried methods of government is broken down on one side, the barriers on the other side will be equally weakened, and that our people will lose not a little of that reverential respect for the laws of their own making which has been with them a distinguishing characteristic.

An Extraordinary Marriage.

About three weeks ago, says the London (England) Daily Telegraph, a young couple, attended by a gay bridal procession, presented themselves at the principal church of the Slobodka-Romanovka, suburb of Odessa, for the purpose of being permanently united by the bonds of holy matrimony. When the affianced pair, however, had reached the altar-rails and were there awaiting the fulfillment of their dearest hopes, the paper, detecting a certian unsteadiness of gait in the bridegroom, which appeared to his reverence incompatible with the solemnity of the occasion, declined to perform his sacerdotal office upon a person whom he more vigorously than elegantly alluded to as a "boozing swine" Indignant at the untimely inebriety of his offspring, the father of the drunkard seized him by the collar, dragged him out of the church and belabored him soundly with a stout cudgel in the vain hope of restoring him to such self possession as might qualify him to undergo the marriage ceremony with ordinary steadfastness. The bride's father took a more practical view of the situation than his wrathful gossip. Addressing the congregation from the altar-steps, in a stentorian voice, he declared his daughter freed from her matrimonial engagement, and further stated that any eligible candidate for her hand, presenting himself then and there, might wed her on the spot, without incurring any expense, and count upon a fond parent's tender blessing to boot. Two aspirants came forward. After inspection by the bride and brief interrogation as to their respective worldly means and position, one was politely dismissed and the other took the luckless "boozing swine's" place at the altar, where, a few minutes later, he was made a happy husband. Thus he that came to look on remained to be married, while the victim of ill-timed potations staggered home lifeless, but with a skinful of sore.

Steam vs. Sails

The rapidity with which steam supplants sails in the carrying trade of the world is illustrated in the statistics of the mercantile marine of Great Britain. In 1869 the total tonnage of sailing vessels belonging to the United Kingdom was 4,677,275 tons, while in 1879 it had sunk to 3,918,676 tons, a decrease of 785,599 tons, or nearly 17 per cent. On the other hand, the total tonnage of the steam vessels employed in 1869 was 1,089,989, which in 1879 had risen to 2,331,157, a growth of 1,291,188 tons, or more than 124 per cent. In this connection the London Economist notes that "in 1869 the total number of British vessels, both sailing and steam, was 21,881, while in 1879 it had fallen to 20,029. Keeping in view the concurrent increase of aggregate tonnage, it is thus clear that there has been a gradual increase in the size of the vessels employed, and one result of this has been an economy of labor. Thus, while the tonnage of steam vessels was more than double between 1870 and 1879, the total of the men employed rose only from 58,703 to 78,731, or about 34 per cent."

The Secret Expedition of the Kearsage.

The United States Steamship Kearsage, which was sent a short time since to Central America, under secret orders, has cast anchor in Chiriqui lagoon, and begun the survey of the channels between the islands with which the month of the lagoon is studded. Properly speaking, the lagoon or bay of Chiriqui is an inland sea formed by a deep indentation of the coast line. The northern channel leading to the lagoon is the Bocas del Drago, and the southern the Bocas del Toro. On the shore of the later is the village of Bocas, where a small colony of Americans is settled, and which enjoys the honor of having a resident American consul. Chiriqui bay has a depth of water capable of floating the largest ships, and good harbors are found among the islands. On one of these, Pope's Island, as well as on the mainland, coal is found of fair quality, and the ostensible purpose of the visit of the Kearsage is to establish a coaling station on Shepherd's Island, where the water is deep to the very shore, and where all the facilities needed for such a station are to be had. All the Americans settled at or near Bocas are either traders or planters, some combining both occupations. They are said to do a thriving export trade with New York, sending there cocoanuts. India rubber and hides, which they get from the natives in exchange for American goods. It is now reported from Panama that the United States steamer Adams has already established a coaling station in Dulce bay, on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica, and without asking any special permission for the privilege. Whether our government has any other object in view besides establishing coaling stations does not appear to be known. Before the war there was some talk of occupying a part of the Chiriqui bay as a naval station, and of vitilizing for that purpose a grant made by the Colombian government to an American. But this grant is said to have reverted to Colombia years ago. Any occupation of the soil or waters of that republic should, therefore, be at this time with its consent. It is curious, however, and may be significant, that no expedition should have been sent to the waters of the isthmus until after the interoceanic Congress at Paris determined on recommending the the Isthmus of Panama as the route for a ship canal.

Fairness to the Colored Race.

New York Sun.

The readiness with which people jumped to the conclusion that the injuries sustained by Whittaker, the colored cadet at West Point, were inflicted by himself, seemed to indicate the retention, in a great degree, of the strong prejudice formerly existing among the whites generally against the colored race.

But it must be admitted that whether that conclusion was right or wrong, there were very suspicious circumstances leading to its establishment.

Since the infliction of the injuries upon this colored cadet another event has happened which shows a disposition in the community to do justice as quicly and as amply to the blacks as to the whites. We refer to the winning of both the first and the second places in a walking match which eclipses all previous feats in pedestrianism, by men with African blood in their veins.

Not a murmur has arisen, from any quarter, of dissatisfaction at awarding to these champions the prizes they have won.

If it shall turn out that Whitaker inflicted his injuries upon himself, his whole race will suffer from his act of folly.

The men who have shown their superior prowess and strength in the walking match, on the contrary, have done much to race in publication Physical superiority commands respect and admiration. These two young men having vindicated their title to this distinction, it is ungrudgingly accorded to them. And the event shows that color stands in no man's way if he will only actually do something.

The Irish convention which meets in Philadelphia June 25, promises to be quite a large gathering. Over three hundred of the invitations sent out have been accepted, and every State in the Union has promised to send a delegation. The aim of the convention is to organize a movement to revolutionize Ireland. A hundred thousand rifles are to be purchased and a hundred thousand armed Irish Americans thrown into Ireland. It is expected that the people will then rise, and that by sending over a few skirmishing parties to England itself, that power will be persuaded to recognize the independence of Erin The only thing needed for this, one of the organizers of the movement declares, is money, and the convention will devise means to procure the necessary funds.

The Republican majority in Massachusetts, says the Boston Herald, has fallen off largely from its old proportion, and should the convention at Chicago put in nomination a man obnoxious to the independent Republicans of Massachusetts, a correction of the mistake at Cincinnati might change the balance of power and give the State to the Democrats, as far as the presidential electors are concerned.

The cultivation of cotton in California which was tried in the State some time ago, but abandoned in 1877, is now being revived on a large scale under promise of a permanent home market. A thousand acres have already been planted in cotton. It is claimed that the climate, by reason of the even temperature, is eminently fitted for cotton culture and that the staple raised will be of greater fineness and the Californians have grown very enthusiastic, and prophesy that cotton will soon rival wheat and wine in importance in the agriculture of California.

WASHINGTON.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE 46TH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April, 14th.—Bills were introduced and referred as follows by Wallace to define the amount and manner of purchase of public loans to be made by the Secretary of the Treasury. By Maxey, for the relief of certain officers and privates of the U. S. army, Voorhees submitted a resolution instructing the committee on the pensions report biill authorizing pensions to the surviving soldiers and sailors of the Mexican war.

McPherson from the Committee on naval affairs reported favorably on the bill for the relief of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company was placed on the calender. The morning hour expired, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the Geneva Award bill. He took a different view from the supporters of the bill as to the applicability of the doctrine of subrogation in this case. The underwriter in taking the risk, exacted a sufficiently large premium to cover the risk of a total loss, and made no allowance for the possibility of a breach of neutrality by a foreign government on arbitration, and an award of damages. That possibility was too intangible and shadowy to enter into the contract, or to be pleaded afterward as giving right of subrogation. He quoted legal authorities to sustain this proposition, and also to ascertain that demand for payment as for total loss, was not a final and absolute abandonment of insured property transferring the right of subrogation with it. Circumstances of equity may exist or which the Courts are to pass and may reverse the technical abandonment in case where 40 per cent premiums was paid. Equally would not allow the underwriter now to recover the other 60 per cent, thus being paid twice. That might be his abstract right in law, but it was not an equitable right. Mr. Thurman asked to whom it would be unjust. Owners were satisfied were satisfied and asked nothing more. Mr. Call said he was not arguing for any class of person. He did not know who would be injured and who benefitted by his proposition. He understood the authorities to be against the idea that such a vague intangible possibility of the recovery of constituted spes recuperandi or was assignable as a right of property. He decides that the award ward was in any sense subject to legal claims, the municipal law could not govern the distributions of the funds awarded by one grant to another, even when the award was based on claims of individual citizens. There could be no right of property in the disposition and willingness of Great Britain to make the award of damages. He cited various opinions on this point—the question now is simply one of equity who sustained the greatest loss. He believed the losses by exculpated cruisers and by reason of enhanced premiums should be paid that double payment to the underwriters should not be made. On motion of Mr. Eaton, the Pending bill was informally laid aside and the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was taken up. The amount appropriated is 11,461,35 dollars—the amendment was agreed to appriating $24,000 for salries and expenses of the recently appointed commissioners to China, after other slight amendments bill was passed—Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

The morning hour was dispensed with and at 1:24 the House went into committee of the whole, with Blaine of Tenn. in the chair, on the Indian Appropriation bill.

After some remarks by Mr. Baker, of Indiana, the bill was read by sections for amendments, six or eight were offered but most of them were rejected and none were of great importance. Every amendment however served as an excuse for a speech on the Indian question so that much time was consumed. Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, gave notice that he intended to offer an amendment of transferring the Indian Bureau from the Interior to the War Department. The committee finally rose without acting on the bill. Mr. Hutchins, of New York, introduced a bill to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy, referred. The House then took recess until 7:30 o'clock. The evening session to be for the consideration of bills reported from the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court which met on the 1st Monday in January, adjorned yesterday after a most laborious session, having rendered about one hundred and seventy-five opinions. It is evident that a mistake has been made in reducing the number of Judges, as the labor now imposed on these Judges is greater than any lawyer of ability will be willing to undergo for the small salary now paid.

Ward Meeting.

The Republicans of the Second Ward will meet at the Court House Friday evening 16th inst, to nominate candidates for Alderman.

STEWARD ELLISON Chairman.

First Ward Meeting.

On motion, Capt. J. J. Fray was called to the chair and Mr. H. H. Roberts was chosen as Secretary.

The following named persons were placed in nomination.

P. A. Wiley, A. B. Andrews, H. E. Parham, Alf. Upchurch, John Armstrong, Jno. McAlister, L. H. Adams, F. S. Pierce, W. S. Primrose, Dr. Jas. McKee, G. W. Wynne, Armstead Jones, J. W. Weir, John Pescud, Graham Haywood and J. J. Litchford.

On motion it was decided that a majority of votes cast shall constitute a nomination.

On the first ballot 88 votes being cast Mr. Alf. Upchurch received 55 and Mr. John McAllister received 48 being declared two of the nominees.

A second ballot being taken, Col. A. B. Andrews was selected as the third nominee giving for the First Ward ticket, Mr. Alf Upchurch, Mr. Jno. McAlister, and Col. A. B. Andrews.

Fifth Ward.

A large and most harmonious meeting was held at Metropolitan Hall. One hundred and nineteen ballots were cast of which Julius Lewis received 90 Peter Fleming, 77; Joseph Green, 83, and were declared the nominees of the Fifth Ward.

DAILY NEWS

THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1880.

GEO. C JORDAN, Editor and Propr

HART the colored pedestrian, who won the big six day's match in New York the other day, is said to be a lawyer of some ability. He pocketed about $17,000. Pretty good week's work that!

THE Stockholders of the Atlantic and N. C. Railroad have postponed their meeting until May. Mr. Best found it impossible to attend at that time and consequently asked for a postponement.

R. K. BRYAN, Senator from New Hanover and Pender counties has bought the Fayetteville Gazette office. He will begin the publication of the Examiner immediately. Success to you.

MR HENDRICKS says he will not go on the ticket with Mr. Tilden any more. The reason given is that during the whole trying time in 1866-'67 when the fate of the country hung in suspense and the very existence of our party was at stake, Mr. Tilden never sent him a letter or telegram, never asked his counsel or advice, never communicated with him in any manner.

WE are informed by gentlemen just returned from Eastern Carolina that the "catch" of shad is immense on Chowan river. There were more than 1700 caught at Capeheart's Avoca fishery one day last week. Fish hatching has begun in earnest. There is no finer waters on the Atlantic coast for this new industry than the sounds of North Carolina.

THE Chigago Times would not support Tilden for obvious reasons. It would not support Bayard "because he substantialy shared in the follies of the Democrats at the extra session; because he is of the school of 'State rights' Democrats" It would not support Thurman because, chiefly, "he is utterly unsound on financial questions." It would not support Hendricks because, "being utterly unsound on finance, he is a two-faced politician." Who would the Times support?

W. J. Best, Esd., and associates will arrive in Greensboro from New York, as we are informed, on Thursday evening next, and proceed at once over the Western North Carolina Railroad. Having inspected the work they will return and come to this city to complete the purchase. Mr. Best will then immediately set out for his arduous labors and, we trust, his greatest of triumphs, and the forward march will be taken up towards Paint Rock and Ducktown. Every lover of the welfare of the State will wish Mr. Best God speed. A large force is to be employed upon the work."

THE Mahone pill evidently worketh the Virginia stomach. His organs now speak of 'the commanding position' the Readjusters will hold in the coming Presidential contest. The exact meaning of this is a source of much uneasiness to the good men of that State. That Mahone deserves to be coupled with the traitor Arnold all good men must admit. He is an eating cancer on the political body of the "mother of Presidents." The Democratic political knife is needed over there.

THE Savannah News says:

"There is reason to fear that the bill reported on Wednesday by Representative Scales for reorganizing the militia of the United States is another step in the direction of centralization."

We know that Mr. Scales would do nothing knowingly to further such an end. Our cotemporary does not know our worthy representative. We agree with Mr. Scales in regard to reorganizing the militia. As it is at present, it is a dead letter. We have not read Mr. Scales' bill, and consequently are no prepared to discuss its merits.

'Tis said that one of the greatest points in Grant's strength lies in the fact that no amount of exposures damage him in the least. If any other man had been shown up as he has, he would be forever damned in the eyes of all decent people.

He is never phased by proof of fraud, and Methodist Conferences and religious newspapers continue to laud and defend him. He is a non-talking man, never commits himself or denies anything but quietly pursues the "even tenor of his way" as unconcerned as if he had never breathed the foulest atmosphere of fraud and corruption. Everything now leads us to believe that he will be nominated at Chicago. We believe that the coming November election will be his "Waterloo."

DURING a late trip to Norfolk, Va., we were particularly struck with the uncommon backwardness of the truckers along the route of the Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad. The truck farms along this road are exposed to the cold winds from the water, which consequences the almost killing of the crops some years. From the observation of ourselves as well as others we think Eastern Carolina will continue to improve her trucking interest until this State will take high rank as a truck growing one. Our climate is peculiarly adapted for this interest. Truck-growing is on the increase around Newbern, and it has been very successful. Our eastern counties are not subject to the cold winds that are so damaging to our Virginia friends, besides being farther south and naturally much earlier which is every with truckers, as it means high prices.

WE are glad to see the counties moving in the work of party organization. No time should be lost in getting the machinery in thorough order. The success not only of the State but Presidential election depends on the work done by the county Executive Committees. The Republican party will make its biggest efforts this year. They know that defeat means death to them. Should they succeed, then they will have obtained a new lease of power for many years. A renewal of Republican power means a reinstatement of fraud and corruption in every governmental office from President to county constable.

Our friends should not forget this, but pull steadily and strongly together and good economical government will be theirs.

MR. SEYMOUR has just been interviewed by Mr. Theodore Cook, of Cincinnati a leading democrat of that city who has been on a visit to the ex-Governor. He is an old personal friend of Mr. Seymour and speaks authoritatively concerning his position in regard to the Presidential candidacy. He says Mr. Seymour is very much annoyed at the persistency of the Press and people in urging him for the Presidency. He says he will not accept the nomination under any circumstances. He is anxious for the success of the Democratic party, and believes that with any good man who can unite the party it will succeed, but he says that he realizes that he is not that man. Even if he were, his health and age would not permit him to accept the nomination. Though apparently in good health while living quietly at home, Mr. Seymour says that he is really unable to endure any excitement, physically or mental, and that his only lease of life depends on a strict avoidance of all such excitement. He said to Mr. Cook in the plainest of terms: In no circumstances, I assure you, could I become a candidate, even if I thought the good of the party demanded it."

OUR esteemed contemporary but business competitor the Raleigh Observer which is only another name for Judge Merrimon, goes out of its way to insinuate that we are the organ of Colonel Holt. The NEWS, an intelligent public needs not to be told, is the organ of no man however estimable he may be. It is and has ever been a fearless tribune of the people, and just here it is not amiss to remind our friend that "harmony at the centre" would be better preserved by restraining its itching inclination to strike at the NEWS. In all modesty we would call attention to the fact that several papers here previous to the present Observer have had a fatal inclination that way and with very little luck. It has been the mournful duty of the NEWS to stand by the grave of each and all of them. With the present edition of the Observer as has been the case with all its predecessors the NEWS wishes to be on good terms. We are embarked in a common cause. We need all our ammunition for the enemy. We do not want to train our guns upon our own allies. Cant the gallant editor of the Observer fire at the foe and let us alone. "LET US HAVE PEACE."

Seminal Pastille

An entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotency by the only true way, viz., Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease. The use of the remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. There is no mistake about the preparation. Plenty of testimonials can be given. We positively guarantee that it will give perfect satisfaction. It is recommended by the Medical Profession to be the most rational method of treating and curing this very prevalent trouble. The Remedy is put up in two forms, viz: No. 1 (Extra Strength) for chronic cases of long standing, or where the most stubborn results have been produced by the use of cubebs, copaiba, or other injurious drugs. No. 2 (Ordinary Strength) for ordinary cases, and for those who object to the use of balsams. Full directions for using accompany each box.

Sold by Druggists throughout the United States and Canada. Sent by mail, sealed in plain wrapper, on receipt of price, $1.00 per box. Pamphlet free. Address all orders to

Cuticura

REMEDISE

Have Achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of Cuticura, Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soap, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin and Scalp. They are however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spasmodic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RHEUM,

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON,
17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb 28, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I feel it a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested to know the fact, that a most disagreeable and obstinate case Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time,—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease had been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days of profuse application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case.

Very truly yours,
CHAS. HOUGHTON.

Liver Complaint.

GENTLEMEN,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my neck, for ten years. Doctors did no good. I have been spending for eight years and it did me no good. Everything I ate distressed me. I got reduced from 190 to 152 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and on one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong. Yours truly,

JOHN H. ROY

NOTE.—Cuticura is admirable assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus of scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the Cuticura Resolvent, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

Cuticura Soap is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to Cuticura in the treatment of all external ailments. For chapped hands, rough skin and tan, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable; as a soap for the toilet, the nursery and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine. The Cuticura Remedies are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

For Sale.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large storerooms. The TOBACCO Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sons, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw COTTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each situated in desirable locations in the village.

TERMS: One third Cash; balance on reasonable time.

Valuable City lot For Sale.

On Tuesday the 4th day of May next, at 12 o'clock, I shall sell at public sale, at the court house door in the city of Raleigh, to the highest bidder, FOR CASH, the valuable lot and two story brick store house that was conveyed to Benjamin F. Harris by Benjamin A. Cheatham and James T. Cheatham, in a mortgage deed bearing date the 31st day of October A. D. 1878, and on record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Wake county. Said store house is situate on the corner of Market square, on Wilmington street, fronting market square, and running through from market square to the next street. It is the store house in which B. F. Cheatham & Bro., (and afterwards John A. Cheatham) did business.

Said house and lot will be sold under a decree of the Superior Court of Wake county, subject to the confirmation of court and no possession to be given until the sale of the property is confirmed, and the purchaser complies with the terms of sale. This lot is valuable and buyers of real estate would do well to examine it before the day of sale.

It is great news indeed that there is at last a remedy (Warner's Safe Nervine) which will relieve all kinds of pain and give rest and sleep without injury to the system. The discovrer of this remedy is considered the most skillful nerve doctor in the world.

From Dr. S. A. Pool, Memphis, Tenn

I recommended and used with my patients Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator, and I find it exceedingly beneficial in consumption, debility, weakness, febrile and nervous diseases, and a reliable nutritive tonic. Sold by WILLIAMS & HAYWOOD.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button."

And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass

This most excellent remedy is becoming more popular with our people every day. It is one of the few medicines that improves on acquaintance—the more one knows of it, the more its virtues are appreciated. Everybody who has given it a fair trial, speak well of it. Our druggists sell large quantities of it. People are not afraid to use a medicine that they know to be efficient for their ailments, and at the same time harmless in its nature. Read what is so aptly said of it, in another column of this paper. Truth is mighty and will prevail. feb27 tf

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness, it becomes scant and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat diseases and consumption, are among the common results. Therefore, if you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood, do not hesitate, but employ Golden Medical Discovery which enriches the blood and radically cures those affections by striking at the root of the evil and removing the cause.

For all bronchial, throat, and lung affections, severe lingering cough, weak lungs, consumption in its early stages, asthma and kindred affections, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the soverign remedy, and has outrivaled all its competitors. It is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. Druggists sell it.

"LITTLE GIANT"
HYDRAULIC COTTON PRESS

ITS GREAT POWER.—With it one man can press a bale of cotton of from 400 to 600 pounds in from 6 to 8 minutes' time, and do it with ease.

ITS QUICKNESS.—A man can press a bale in from 6 to 8 minutes' time, and in 1 minute after, the bale is out, the press is ready for the next.

ITS DURABILITY.—There is neither grinding or rubbing in friction its operation, as in the screw press; it is not liable to wear out for want of oil or attention.

ITS SIMPLICITY and the ease which it is operated by ordinary plantation hands; the ease and speed with with which it is put in position for receiving cotton for the next bale, after one has been turned out—the operation consisting in simply turning a cock, which allows the water to flow each to the tub or tank and the bottom or follower block to sink down to its position for receiving the cotton for packing the next bale. A half barrel of water will pack many bales.

ECONOMY OF SPACE. It takes but a small amount of space for its working—8 x 10 feet being abundant room for it to work in.

ITS TOTAL INDEPENDENCE OF ALL SURROUNDING OBJECTS—requiring neither bracing nor expensive foundations, working immediately under the floor of the gin or in the open field.

IT IS THE ONLY PRESS within our knowledge with which one man or boy can press a bale of ordinary size from 400 to 600 pounds; and it is equally adapted to steam, water or horse-power, but for ordinary plantation use we have not found any one who considered it desirable to use power, as the packing is so easily and quickly done by hand, and also great saving of trouble and expense.

THE CONVENIENCE with which cotton can be put into the box as there is no obstruction above or about the top of the box to interfere with the operation.

THE POWER being applied in a direct line with the resistance of the cotton packed there is but little friction, and, as a natural consequence, but little wear. We are fully satisfied that our Little Giant Press will outwear any two presses of any other kind in the market. These and many other reasons can be given why the "Little Giant" is not only the best but cheapest press on the market, and we would be glad to have you give it a trial.
